Rabbi Michael Rascoe

“Neither a borrower nor lender be;
For loan oft loses both itself and friend,
and borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry.”

(Hamlet, Act 1, Scene 3, ll. 75-77.)

Polonius offers this aphorism to his son, Laertes, as he boards a boat to Paris to continue his gentlemanly education. If Shakespeare believed it, or if we should put stock in the not-so-good Polonius, are two different questions. Many of the gentry borrowed heavily and did not worry about husbandry (thrifty domestic management). Maybe the saying is popular because it is phrased well, and quoting Shakespeare sounds authoritative. It can mean that a loan between friends is dangerous because it changes the relationship by introducing other issues and emotions. If the borrower fails to repay, the lender loses both the money and the friendship. Or it might mean, “I value the friendship so much that I don’t want anything else to intrude.”

In Pirquei Avot, The Rabbis' Maxims (or Ethics of the Fathers 2:14 or 9, depending on the edition), Rabbi Yohanan ben Zakai asks his students, "Go and see, which is the evil way of life which one should shun?" He asks by what trait does "one shun evil and do good?" (Psalm 34:15). Rabbi Simon's evil way is "one who borrows and does not repay. Borrowing from a person is like borrowing from God, as it is said; The wicked borrows and does not repay, but the righteous is generous and gives (Psalm 37:21)."

On the simple level, one who borrows from a person and fails to repay also borrows from God. This person lacks foresight and fails to see that actions have consequences. It is as if s/he borrows from God, from whom comes all riches. God then must make good or treat the lender favorably in other ways. Rabbi Ephraim calls it robbery in his comment on Midrash Shemu'el, which itself claims such a person denies God's existence.

On another level, God, the universe's owner, loans us the use of the world and time. God not only loans us the resources to make money, a living, but God loans us the currency of time. Each day we live is a loan by God. Rabbi Yohanan's student Eliezer next teaches, "repent one day before your death." We might die tomorrow, so we should repent today. God expects us to use each day wisely (Psalm 90:12: "Teach us to count our days rightly, that we may obtain a heart of wisdom"). God wants us to enjoy the divine creations (one who abstains is a sinner, Nedarim 10a), and will punish us if we do not (Yerushalmi Qiddushin 4:9, 66d). Beautiful sounds, sights, and scents restore our spirits (Berakhot 57b). We say berakhot, blessings, for what we eat, smell, hear, and see. As God's guests in the world, we must love and honor people, created in God's image (Leviticus 19:18, Pirquei Avot 2:15/10, and 4:1), and live with integrity (Psalm 15:2). God wants us fully to live our lives with zest, but be sensitive to world and people, mindful that God created a good but incomplete world, which we steward. We pay God interest by maximizing our benefits, using our curiosity and intelligence to improve the world and every thing and person in it. This repays our loan to God with interest in our short lifetimes. Rabbi Tarfon said, "The day is short, the task great, the workers indolent, the reward bountiful, and the Master insistent" (Pirquei Avot 2:20/15).

Spring & Summer
Shabbat Dinner Speaker Series
Featuring Rabbi Stephen A. Karol

Fri., Aug. 2nd

Rabbi Karol discusses his book: Finding Hope and Faith in the Face of Death: Insights of a Rabbi and Mourner (published in 2018). This book is about giving hope and faith, comfort and inspiration, when a death occurs. Based on professional experiences throughout Rabbi Karol's forty-one-year career, as well as his personal losses, the book contains sixteen short sermons that can positively affect the transition from mourning to living our lives. Signed copies of Rabbi Karol's book are available for purchase. BBQ at 5:30 PM, followed by services and lecture. Sponsored by Terri & Doug Milligan.

Sat., Sept. 21st Selichot

Daily Life-Lessons from the Brilliance of Yom Kippur: Sin and Repentance, Apologizing and Forgiveness, Atonement and Reconciliation (previously taught at Temple Isaiah). Our Yom Kippur liturgy is reinforced by modern psychology in encouraging behavior that can better our lives. 1–Turning Wrong into Right: Why Sin is Normal. 2 –I “Apple-gize”: Why Sorry Seems to be the Hardest Word. 3 –Letting Go of your Past and Taking Control of your Future: Why Forgiveness is Good for You. 4–Self-Love is not Selfish: Why Atonement and Reconciliation are so Empowering. Desserts and refreshments will be included.

All events are free. Kindly RSVP to Temple office if you plan on attending.

Dear Fellow Congregant:

Looking forward to the High Holy Days, we thought you would like an explanation of Temple Israel's High Holy Day ticket process.

With membership, families receive two adult tickets and tickets for all children under age 21. Additional tickets for children over the age of 21 may be purchased for $100 each. Tickets for other adult family members are available at $140 each. Non-members may purchase tickets at $350 each.

According to the Temple's long-standing practice, we make High Holy Day seats available at no charge to needy individuals, full-time college students, and active military personnel.

To be courteous and fair to everyone, we ask that you consider the following information:

1. Each person attending High Holy Day services must have a ticket. Tickets are issued for specific seats, and you are expected to occupy the seat designated on your ticket.
2. Tickets are non-transferable.
3. Inter-married spouse members and individual members may reserve tickets for themselves, their spouses, and their children.
4. Each year, all but a few seats are reserved in advance; please do not assume that an unoccupied seat is available.
5. Tickets cannot be purchased for non-relatives at the member rates.

We appreciate your understanding and cooperation in adhering to the spirit of our ticket process. We are all working diligently to make our High Holy Day services meaningful and dignified.

If you have further questions, please call the Temple office, 631 727-3191.

Placing Names on the Yizkor List—Yom Kippur

We will memorialize the names of the dear departed during the Yizkor Service, as we have done in the past.

According to tradition, Tzedakah—the giving of charity—is an integral part of the Memorial service. In that spirit, you may have the names of the departed inscribed in a beautiful Yizkor service booklet, including names on the memorial plaques.

To have names memorialized in this booklet, please send a donation of $18 per name. Mail this form, with names printed clearly, along with your check.

All names in the booklet and on plaques will be read during the Yizkor service.

A Few Classic Jewish Jokes

A Jewish father was very troubled by the way his son turned out and went to see his rabbi about it.

“Rabbi, I brought him up in the faith, gave him a very expensive Bar Mitzvah, and it cost me a fortune to educate him. Then he tells me last week, he’s decided to be a Christian. Rabbi, where did I go wrong?”

The rabbi strokes his beard and says, “Funny you should come to me. I too, brought up my son as a boy of faith, sent him to university and it cost me a fortune, and then one day he comes to me and tells me he wants to be a Christian.”

“What did you do?” asked the man of the rabbi.

“I turned to God for the answer,” replied the rabbi.

“What did He say?” asked the man.

He said, “Funny you should come to me...”

Marilyn Monroe, on being served matzo-ball soup:

“Isn’t there any other part of the matzo you can eat?”

My wife and I did the Jewish divorce custom where we took a broken glass and we put it back together.

Our Judaica Shop

If you need Shabbat or holiday items for yourself, or for a gift, you will find them right in the Temple. Our Judaica Shop boasts a large inventory of beautiful items, many of them displayed in the Social Hall's glass cases. Kiddush cups, glass platters, Shabbat-to-go, kipot, Seder and matzoh plates, menorahs, children's books and toys, cookbooks, and candlesticks are all there.

Phyllis Van Dyne operates the Temple's Shop, acquiring new items several times a year. She will also fill special orders; if you see something you'd like, she can get it for you. Or, if you need ideas for a gift, she will be happy to suggest something in your price range, perfect for your occasion and recipient. For more information and personal service, just call Phyllis at 631-734-7511.

Kosher Food For Our Events

Bagel Patch, in Patchogue, frequently provides the food for our special events. The Best Yet Market on Route 58 carries pareve cookies and cakes. BJ's and Costco also have pareve cookies in their bakeries.

Philanthropy • Public Service • Volunteering

We know what it takes to make a strong
Jewish community.
Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition. We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.
