6:22 AM Sunday, October 23, 1983. We should remember, but we forget. A truck bomb explodes. Lebanon: 241 USA military dead. President Reagan said we'd never back down from terrorists. We left in 4 months. Defense Secretary Weinberger opposed being there; he learned that we don't commit insufficient military forces to an ill-defined mission with no clear national interest or exit strategy. Special Middle East Envoy Rumsfeld said it convinced him that the best defense against terrorism is a good offense, "take the war to them...go after them where they...live...plan...hide, go after their finances...the people who harbor and assist them." Osama bin Laden told ABC News in 1998, the U.S. response to the Beirut bombing showed "the decline of American power and the weakness of the American soldier, who is ready to wage cold wars but unprepared to fight long wars." This led to 9/11, Afghanistan, Iraq, etc. No wake-up call to a new threat replacing the USSR: militant, fundamentalist Islam, which requires a new response.

Rabbi Arnold E. Resnicoff was there. He wouldn't return to his base on Shabbat after leading a memorial service on Friday for Alan Soifert, a Marine shot by a sniper. Four days after the bombing, Vice President Bush, at the site, asked Rabbi Resnicoff to send a report of the attack and rescue effort to the White House. President Reagan read it to the nation. Full text and video are at <http://www.resnicoff.net/FalwellConvention.html>.

"One of the first to reach the building after the blast, I—along with Lieutenant Commander George ("Pooch") Pucciarelli, the Catholic chaplain...faced a scene almost too terrible to describe. Bodies, and pieces of bodies, were everywhere. Screams of those injured or trapped were barely audible at first, as our minds struggled to grapple with the reality before us: a massive, four-story building reduced to a pile of rubble....

"There was a sense of God's presence...in the small miracles of life which we encountered in each body that...still had a breath within. But there was more of His presence...to keep our faith alive, in the heroism—and in the humanity—of the men who responded to the cries for help....

"Certain images...stay with me,...a Marine...found a wad of money amidst the rubble. He held it at arm's length as if it were dirty and cried out for a match or lighter, so that it could be burned. No one...wanted to profit....

"Working with the wounded—sometimes comforting...letting them know help was on the way; sometimes trying to pull and carry those whose injuries appeared less danger-

A Message from Rabbi Rascoe

I have received inquiries regarding some new classes.

One suggestion was for a Hebrew class. Mondays would work best for our teacher.

The other is a class in Qabbalah, one form of Jewish mysticism.

Let me know if you are interested in either class, Please provide dates and times. As a reminder, my other classes occur every Wednesday from 6-7:30 PM, and the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month from 7-8 PM. The classes can be weekly, semi-monthly, monthly; any day (if Shabbat, then there is no writing).

Looking forward to seeing you in class!

Our Judaica Shop

If you need Shabbat or holiday items for yourself, or for a gift, you will find them right in the Temple. Our Judaica Shop boasts a large inventory of beautiful items, many of them displayed in the Social Hall's glass cases. Kiddush cups, glass platters, Shabbat-to-go, kipot, Seder and matzoh plates, menorahs, children's books and toys, cookbooks, and candlesticks are all there.

Phyllis Van Dyne operates the Temple's Shop, acquiring new items several times a year. She will also fill special orders; if you see something you'd like, she can get it for you. Or, if you need ideas for a gift, she will be happy to suggest something in your price range, perfect for your occasion and recipient. For more information and personal service, just call Phyllis at 631-734-7511.

Kosher Food For Our Events

Bagel Patch, in Patchogue, frequently provides the food for our special events. The Best Yet Market on Route 58 carries pareve cookies and cakes. BJ's and Costco also have pareve cookies in their bakeries.

Beach Bakery, in Westhampton Beach, is under kosher supervision.

Philanthropy • Public Service • Volunteering

We know what it takes to make a strong
Jewish community.
Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition. We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.

Kol Nidre Appeal 5780

As we move into 5780, we continue to need our membership and friends to preserve the health and well-being of our beloved temple. It is a tradition in congregations to establish a Kol Nidre Appeal Fund; at Temple Israel this fund is vital to help supplement the dues and thus cover our operating expenses. Therefore, we ask each one of you, if you have not already donated, to be as generous as possible, in order that our temple may continue to meet the growing needs of the Jewish community.

Please forward your check, payable to Temple Israel Kol Nidre Fund, to: Temple Israel of Riverhead, P.O. Box 1531, Riverhead, NY 11901. You can also pay online using PayPal. Thank you.

ous...than the approaching fire or the smothering smoke—my kippa [skullcap] was lost....I had used it to mop someone's brow. Father Pucciarelli...cut a circle out of his cap, a piece of camouflage cloth that would become my temporary head covering. ...we wanted those Marines to know not just that we were Chaplains, but that he was Christian and...I was Jewish....we...wanted to shout the message in a land where people were killing each other...partially based on...differences in religion...that...we Americans...still believed that we could be proud of our particular religions and yet work side by side when the time came to help others, to comfort, and to ease pain.

"Father Pucciarelli and I worked...as brothers. The words from the prophet Malachi...recurring to me,...as he had looked...at fighting and cruelty and pain: "Have we not all one Father?"...."Has not one God created us all?" It was painfully...obvious, that our world still could not show that we had learned to answer "yes." Still...some of us can keep the question alive. Some...could cry out...that we believe the answer is yes.

"Before the bombing, Pooch and I had been in a building...a hundred yards away. There had been one other Chaplain, Lieutenant Danny Wheeler, a Protestant minister, who had spent the night in the building that was attacked....I hugged him as they brought over a stretcher...his first words...unsure of his own condition, he asked how his clerk was. Like so many...we would save that day, he asked first about others....

"After the living were...out, there was...more work.... With the wounded, with those who had survived, there was...trying to ease a gnawing feeling of guilt that would slowly surface: guilt that they had somehow let down their comrades by not dying....So, our job was to tell them how every life saved was important...: how their survival was important to our faith, and our hope. They had to give thanks—with us—that they still had the gift, and the responsibility of lives that would go on....

“This was a tragedy of people...each...unique...each had a story...a past, and each had been cheated of a future. As the Mishnah puts it, each was a world. We were not digging up "two hundred and forty." We were digging up one, plus one, plus one....

“I remember the first time I jumped in a foxhole...within the U.S. area. Looking around..., I made the remark that we...had set up the only "interfaith foxholes" in Beirut! The Druze, Muslims, Christians, all had theirs. The...Israeli Army had theirs. But we were together. I made the comment...that perhaps if the world had more interfaith foxholes, there might be less of a need for foxholes....

“During those days..., a Marine...would send a silent signal that he wanted me—...a chaplain—near. Sometimes...to talk. Sometimes...so that he could shrug his shoulders or lift his eyes in despair. Sometimes...just to feel that I was near—for, despite the struggles I might be feeling on a personal level, I was a chaplain, and therefore a symbol that there was room for hope, and for dreams, even at the worst of times.

“In Jewish tradition,...when we visit...a

mourner during shiva, the first week following the death of a loved one, visitors follow a...rule. If a mourner initiates the conversation, the visitor responds. Otherwise,...sit in silence, communicating concern through your very presence...without words....I applied the rules of shiva during those days of digging.....

“...the rabbis offered one interpretation of the Biblical verse that...we are created "in the image of God." It does not refer to physical likeness...but to spiritual potential. We have within us the power to reflect...the highest values of our Creator. As God is forgiving and merciful, so can we be. As He is caring and kind, so must we strive to be. As He is filled with love, so must we be.

“Because of the actions I witnessed during the hell in Beirut, I glimpsed...a fleeting image of heaven. For, in the hearts and hands of men who chose to act as brothers, I glimpsed God's hand as well. I did not stand alone to face a world forsaken by God; ...I was part of one created with infinite care, and wonderful—awesome—potential.

“We live in a world where it is not hard to find cause for despair. The chaplain has the challenge to bring to those who often see terror at its worst some reason for hope.

“We need to keep faith and to keep searching, even during the worst of times. Only then may we find strength...to keep believing that the best of times still might be.”
