Rabbi Michael Rascoe

When I had my first congregation, we lived on a major thoroughfare near downtown with the major hospital, the main police and fire stations just down the street. Needless to say, we heard many sirens. And just as needless to say, the sirens blaring scared our boys.

We explained that the sirens meant that someone was offering big help to a person who really needed it and the siren was meant to make sure that the help came quickly. Soon it just became Big Help.

The sudden noise is meant to catch our attention. The jarring sounds jolt us. Being unexpected, they may frighten us.

Yet with a vantage turn, they inspire. They indicate that people mobilize to help someone in need, and help is on the way.

They now represent that people show genuine concern for others; they care for those in distress and those exposed to danger. When we know that help is coming, it reaffirms our hope for the future. The future always looks better with a dose of hope and help, because it shows there is a future.

Israel Zangwill (early 20th century Anglo-Jewish journalist, humorist, novelist, playwright, translator, critic, Zionist, and social activist) wrote, “Take from me the hope that I can change the future and you will drive me mad” (David to Mendel near the end of Act II of The Melting-Pot).

We’re in the midst of the counting of the Omer between Pesah and Shavuot, Passover and Weeks/Pentecost. As we move from slavery to freedom to responsibility, we can only move forward with hope, and the counting of the Omer reminds us that help always is available on the journey through the wilderness to the Promised Land.

Temple Israel of Riverhead's
Speaker Program Presents:

Rabbi Stephen A. Karol

Friday, June 13, 2025, 7:00 p.m.

“PSALMS: WHERE ‘HALLELUJAH’ GOT ITS START”

The Book of Psalms is one of the most respected and valued literary creations in the history of the world. Consisting of 150 “chapters,” it is an amazing collection of poetry, songs, and prayers expressing joy and sorrow, faith and despair, hope and doubt, comfort and anger, gratitude and complaints. I will discuss some of the psalms that are included in our liturgy and life-cycle occasions and can motivate and inspire us.

Rabbi Stephen A. Karol is Rabbi Emeritus of Temple Isaiah in Stony Brook, New York, and the author of Finding Hope and Faith in the Face of Death: Insights of a Rabbi and Mourner. He was ordained at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion (HUC-JIR) in Cincinnati in 1977, and has served at Temple Beth Zion in Buffalo, New York, Congregation Sha'aray Shalom in Hingham, Massachusetts, and Temple Isaiah. He teaches at Temple Isaiah and also at the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at Stony Brook University. Rabbi Karol lives in Port Jefferson Station, New York, with his wife Donna.

Services followed by speaker and dessert.

This program is generously sponsored by Jaime Siegel, in honor of the yahrzeits for his father, Irving and his brother Jefferey

This is a free program. RSVP required.

My Farewell Message

Dear Congregants: Nearly 20 years ago I took over the Temple Israel Bulletin and website, from Paul Lowy. Over the years a lot has changed, but not the commitment and leadership of our Temple. Through several rabbis, Temple Israel has endured and adapted to the times, and I have enjoyed working with all involved.

The April issue was my last bulletin. It has been a pleasure working with our supporters, and ensuring a quality product each time.

- Al Silver

I wish my successor the best of luck in chronicling the events, comings,

We know what it takes to make a strong
Jewish community.
Doing our job well is just the beginning.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve the community in times of growth and happiness as well as times of grief. It's not surprising we've served the Jewish community for over 100 years. How we've served is the surprising part. David Rubin and his entire staff work tirelessly in serving the Jewish community, but then, that's part of our philosophy and tradition.

We believe to be a good funeral director, you should serve and give back to the community.
